Germantown Company Wins
2011 Wisconsin Manufacturer of the Year Award
Cambridge Major Laboratories wins Special Award for Investing Locally, Growing Globally

Milwaukee – Cambridge Major Laboratories, Inc. was one of eight Wisconsin companies awarded a prestigious Wisconsin Manufacturer of the Year Award. The winners were announced Thursday night at a black tie banquet honoring the 52 nominees.

Cambridge Major Laboratories (CML) provides chemistry research, development, and manufacturing services to the world's leading pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies. They are headquartered in Germantown and employ 200 people, 130 of which are in Wisconsin. CML's scientists are developing new, cost effective ways to produce new drugs for myriad diseases including cancer, diabetes, cardiovascular diseases, central nervous system disorders, and third world challenges such as tuberculosis and malaria. CML is recognized as a leader among the entire pharmaceutical industry providing services to nearly 120 pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies.

As many large multi-national pharmaceutical companies have had to shed employees and shut down development and manufacturing sites to reduce costs, they are outsourcing to CML. The company is able to contend with their competitors, mostly located on the coasts of the United States and in Western Europe.

Celebrating its 24th year, the MOTY program recognizes manufacturers of all sizes and industries for their contributions to the great state of Wisconsin. The Wisconsin Manufacturer of the Year award winners were selected by an independent panel of judges representing industry, education, and the public sector.

The accounting and advisory firm of Baker Tilly, the law firm of Michael Best & Friedrich LLP, and the business association Wisconsin Manufacturers & Commerce sponsor the MOTY awards program. Additional information can be found online at www.wimoty.com or by calling (800) 362-7301.
